

TUESDAY 16TH SEPTEMBER

h. 8.00 - 9.00

Registration

ROOM 9

ROOM 10

Session 4. People and their environment

chairs: Henry A. and Robson H. K.

Session 9. Understanding the social context chairs: Cristiani E. and Garcia Puchol O.

h. 9.00 - 9.15

Connections with Sea Ice - creating holistic frameworks of culture, climate and ecology Sleeboos K.

Hunting mega-structures of the North Adriatic hinterland Mlekuz Vrhovnik D. and Fabec T.

h. 9.15 - 9.30

How did prehistoric societies deal - culturally and economically - with environmental change?
Glykou A., Fjellström M. and Lidén K.

Investigating Mesolithic sociocultural patterns on the Atlantic Façade through Archaeogenomics

Simões L. G., Peyroteo-Stjerna R., Marchand G., Araújo A. C., Diniz M., Violet A., Günther T. and Jakobsson M.

h. 9.30 - 9.45

A Mesolithic seafood platter in Brittany
Stafford A., Marcuzzi A. and Dupont C.

Age as a factor of social identity at the Late Mesolithic Yuzhniy Oleniy Ostrov burial site, Karelia,
NW Russia

Batanina O. and Eckelmann R.

h. 9.45 - 10.00

Mesolithics on the shore: reassessing marine resources exploitation in the Mediterranean Sea
during the Mesolithic Carenti G., Vignier A. and Theodoropoulou T.

Colourful waters: exploring deposition at tufa springs, Cherhill, Wiltshire, UK Conneller C. and Pollard J.

h. 10.00 - 10.15

How to fish during the Castelnavian: aquatic environment, fishing practices and targeted species in "La Font-des-Pigeons" (Châteauneuf-les-Martigues)?
Vignier A. and Theodoropoulou T.

Exploring cultural diversity from the Mesolithic record: an appraisal regarding social network
dynamics at the Central and Western Mediterranean García Puchol O.

h. 10.15 - 10.30

Resource management before farming - Mesolithic fish traps in naturally fishless Norwegian lakes Mjaerum A. and Friis E. K.

Mobility, diet, and lifeways of the individuals buried in the Early Mesolithic and Middle-Late Neolithic rock shelter of Abri des Autours, Belgium

Capuzzo G., Fiorin E., Salesse K., Polet C., Veselka B., Brecko J., Cauwe N., De Groote I., Cristiani E.
and Snoeck C.

h. 10.30 - 10.45

Discussion

Discussion

h. 10.45 - 11.15

Coffee break

h. 11.15 - 11.30

Humans and freshwater ecosystems - Mesolithic populations and exploitation of wetlands
along the Adige Valley (Trentino, Italy)
Dipino N., Fontana A., Visentin D., Fasser N., Nannini N., Flor E., Pedrotti A., Fontana F., Thun
Hohenstein U. and Duches R.

Biological and archaeological perspectives on the Mesolithic shell midden population(s) of Cabeço da Amoreira (Muge, Portugal)

Coutinho Nogueira D., Gonçalves C., Godinho R. M., Simão P., Cascalheira J., André L., Bicho N., and Umbelino C.

h. 11.30 - 11.45

Let's settle here! Long-term hunter-fisher-gatherer interaction in northwestern Lithuania wetland ecosystems
Rimkus T., Piličiauskienė G., Kisieliene D. and Peseckas K.

Habitual activities and the environment of Mesolithic communities within and beyond the Iron Gates (Serbia): a comparison based on the use-wear analysis, faunal studies and geographical characteristics

Petrović A., Živaljević I., Djurović M., Dimitrijević V. and Mihailović D.

h. 11.45 - 12.00

My deer, your boar. Differences in hunting and fishing structure between neighbouring Stone
Age forager sites Dudka and Szczepanki, Masuria, NE-Poland
Gumiński W.

Macrolithic tools from Mesolithic sites in Northern Germany: new insights into subsistence
practices and settlement functions

Holst D.

h. 12.00 - 12.15	Aspects of human-animal relations in the Mesolithic of northern Germany Kipke N.	Paws on pots: metapodial bone impressions on Eastern Baltic hunter-fisher pottery (4th millennium BC) Bērziņš V., Haferberga V. and Macāne A.
h. 12.15 - 12.30	Mesolithic lifeways in the Meuse Basin: insights into mobility, diet, and adaptation through multidisciplinary research De Groote I., Toussaint M., Rivollat M., Robert P., Van Hattum I., Polet C., Semal P. and Blevins K. E.	Poster presentations A unique discovery: Mesolithic painted pebbles from Vlakno Cave Cvitkusic B., Cristiani E. and Vujević D. Discussion Session 6. Settlements and dwellings chairs: Groß D. and Milner N.
h. 12.30 - 12.45	Taphonomic and spatial analysis of faunal remains in a Mesolithic combustion feature at Cabeço da Amoreira (Muge, Portugal) Filipe L., Rufà A., Cascalheira J. and Gonçalves C.	Excavation and analysis of very large Mesolithic sites in the context of preventive archaeology: feedback from the Saint-Martin-la-Garenne excavations (Île-de-France, France) Roncin O.
h. 12.45 - 13.00	Poster presentations Early and Middle Holocene fishing hooks from Lubana Lake: preliminary results of multidisciplinary studies Osipowicz G., Orłowska J., Zagorska I., Bosiak M. and Kubiak-Martens L. High-resolution research at Mesolithic shell middens in the Cape St. Vincent area, SW Iberia Simões C., Aldeias V., García-Escárzaga A., León Cristóbal A., Monteiro P., Oliveira R., Reis H. and Soares R. First stage in the chaîne opératoire of animal teeth pendants at Zvejnieki: an experimental study of animal teeth extraction methods and wider social implications Macāne A., Nordqvist K., Mannerman K., Needham A., Pomstra D., Cifuentes Alcobendas G., Reblis J., Zagorska I. and Little A. Mesolithic hunting seasons: reading between the cracks of taphonomy Gardeur M.	How long is a short stay? Eigeland L., Sigrid A. D.
h. 13.00 - 13.15	Discussion	Contemplations on Mesolithic cooking pits/pit hearths in Southeastern Norway and Western Sweden Hårstad S.
h. 13.15 - 14.30	Lunch
h. 14.30 - 14.45	First evidence of the exploitation of the Sardinian pika in the Mesolithic from Su Carroppu di Sirri (Sardinia, Italy) Thun Hohenstein U., Fanari S., Laura F. and Lugliè C. †	Unveiling the frozen past: reindeer hunting and landscape use at the glacial Fetegga site in the Alpine wilderness of Western Norway Ramstad M.
h. 14.45 - 15.00	The zooarchaeology of Skateholm - analysing and integrating the bones from old and new excavations to interpret subsistence and economy at a Late Mesolithic iconic site Boethius A. and Magnell O.	Mesolithic deep-pit systems in France Riquier V.
h. 15.00 - 15.15	New archaeobotanical data from the Sauveterrian open-air site of Contrada Pace (Tolentino, Macerata, Central Italy) Carra M., Potì A., Finocchi S., Mazzieri P., Fontana F., Peresani M., and Visentin D.	Reconstructing the spatial organisation and architecture of Mesolithic structures at Star Carr Bates J., Little A., Conneller C. and Milner N.

h. 15.15 - 15.30	Wrapping the world together: first results of interdisciplinary research on the collection of cords and wrappings from the Subneolithic Šventoji site complex in Lithuania Osipowicz G., Orłowska J., Piličiauskas G., Piličiauskienė G., Cristiani E., Kubiak-Martens L., Lucas M., Brown T., Theis Zetner T. J., Ramsøe M. and Chiang Y.	The Mesolithic sites of Neuenwalde, Northern Germany, and the advantages of settling along wetland edges Mahlstedt S., Wolters S. and Siegmüller A.
h. 15.30 - 15.45	The use of plants in pottery production among the Swifterbant culture in NW Europe: taxonomic identification and 14C dating of plant temper materials (ORG-ID project) Teetaert D., Deforce K., Wojcieszak M., Ligovich G., Kubiak-Martens L., Schröer L., Ngan-Tillard D., Cnudde V., Raemaekers D., De Clercq W., Crombé P. and Boudin M.	A holey trinity: reassessing three Mesolithic sites on the east coast of Ireland - towards new narratives Moucheron M., Onfray M., Gilhooly B., Trafford A. and Warren G.
h. 12.45 - 13.00	Poster presentations The Late Mesolithic deep pit site of Sannerville "Cit�� les Conqu��rantes" (Normandy) Ghesqu��re E. The small mammal remains from the Mesolithic site Galgenb��hel/Dos de la Forca (Salorno, Bolzano, Northern Italy): preliminary remarks De Curtis, O. and Wierer, U. Roe deer versus chamois: the importance of distinguishing the two at la Grande Rivoire rockshelter Derbord L., Bray F., Angelin A. and Costamagno S. Fire use in prehistoric clay structures: Casal Leit��o (Lourinh��, Portugal) through the lens of charcoal analysis Monteiro P., Cruz J., Costa A. M., Neves C. and Ara��jo A. C.	A house in the reeds, wooden constructions in the lake. The Mesolithic site complex Dagsmosse Jussberg in Sweden Hallgren F., Hinders N., Blaesild P. and S��str��m A.
h. 16.00 - 16.15	Discussion	Discussion
h. 16.15 - 16.45	Coffee break
h. 16.45 - 17.00	Prunus spp. management among hunter-gatherers and first farmers in Eurasia Berihuete-Azor��n M., Allu�� A., Mas B., Exp��sito I. and Filipovi�� D.	Dwelling places in the Netherland, the Kampen hut in broader perspective Muller A.
h. 17.00 - 17.15	Flux, change, saturated meeting grounds: past environments and archaeo-palaeo-ecology with cases from Dagsmosse, South-central Sweden Blaesild P. and S��str��m A.	Three Early Mesolithic (9th millennium BC) sunken house floors in south-eastern Finland Nordqvist K., Kriiska A., Tapani R., Khrustaleva I. and Mac��ne A.
h. 17.15 - 17.30	The contribution of continental malacology to the study of Mesolithic sites: one indicator, multiple research directions Granai S. and Limondin-Lozouet N.	Ljungaviken, a well-preserved Swedish site with over 58 Mesolithic houses and a dog burial Kj��llqvist M. and Persson C.
h. 17.30 - 18.00	Poster presentations Burnt artefacts and Mesolithic pyrotechnologies in the French Pre-Alps: issues and new developments Audiard B., Aur��ade H., Burguet-Coca A., Mart��nez-Varea C. and Ricci G. Speleothems to trace human activities and environment in Belgium during the Pleistocene-Holocene transition Verheyden S., Burlet C., Vandendriessche H. and Cromb�� P. Strange landscapes, great archives: environmental archaeology of bohemian 'rock cities' Mesolithics ��da P., Pt��kov�� M. and Pokorn�� P. The role of rapid climate changes and fire in shaping the Mesolithic lifeways in the sandy lowlands of Belgium and the S Netherlands using palynological and microcharcoal analyses Pinc�� P. and Van Maldegem E.	Invisible practices in Mesolithic shell mound construction Sim��es C., Aldeias V., Arias P., Bicho N., Cascalleira J., Diniz M., Gon��alves C.

h. 17.45 - 18.00	Discussion	Poster presentations A Late Mesolithic household at Strandvägen, Motala Molin F. Elusive dwellings in the Early Mesolithic of Western Norway Tøssebro C., Simpson D., Zinsli C., Hervig S. and Årskog H. Mesolithic settlements (9th to 6th millennia BC) at Roquemissou (Aveyron, France) Perrin T., Arbez L., Boboeuf M., Bouby L., Bréhard S., Defranould E., Gardeur M., Henry A., Hervé G., Le Bourdonnec F.-X., Lejay M., Marquebielle B., Mauraun G., Mensan R. and Philibert S. Sedentary lifestyle in Late Mesolithic Western Norway? Zinsli C., Hervig S., Tøssebro C., Årskog H. and Åstveit L. I.
h. 18.00- 18.15		Discussion
h. 18.15 - 18.45	Presentation of The Oxford Handbook of Mesolithic Europe Nilsson Stutz L., Peyroteo Stjerna R. and Törv M.	